

Improved project management and team collaboration

MJI TeamWorks is a browser based collaborative environment that supports project, resource and document management. As a browser based application, MJI TeamWorks can be rapidly deployed to both internal and external people, thereby supporting teams in a distributed environment.

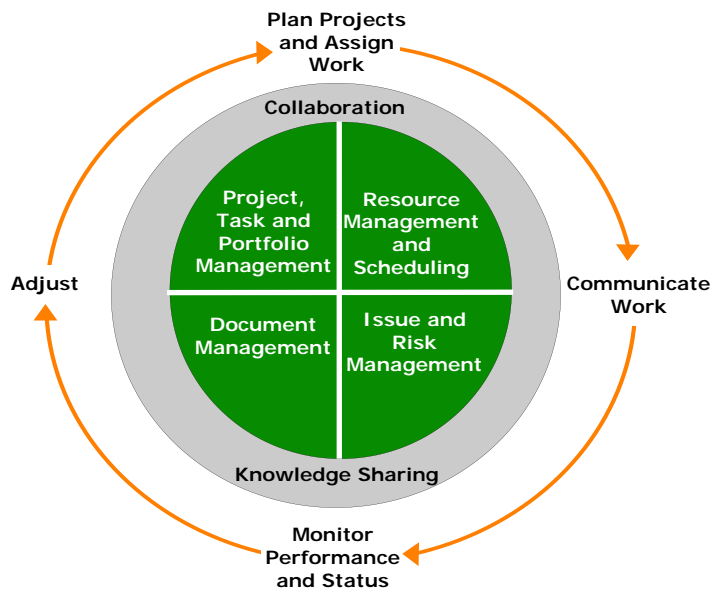

MJI TeamWorks allows organisations to manage their projects more efficiently, provides their teams with the information required to operate effectively, enables the sharing of information and knowledge and optimises resource utilisation.

Centralised management, complete visibility, better decisions

MJI TeamWorks provides a proven, scalable solution for managing multiple projects, managing resources and managing the access to, and delivery, of information.

- Manage a portfolio of projects and initiatives centrally
- Gain full visibility of projects, resources and schedules
- Optimise utilisation of people through resource management and capacity planning
- Minimise risk, problems and the impact of issues
- Deliver a collaboration framework to teams thereby allowing them to work together
- Manage the storage and publication of documents and electronic media

Effective collaboration, project management, resources utilisation and document management is fast becoming key to organisations who depend on high value knowledge workers, operating in today's demanding business environment against critical timescales.
